GENERAL FACULTIES COUNCIL

The regular meeting of General Faculties Council was held on Monday evening, 28 June. The following were among the items discussed.

Credit for a grade of 3

A question arose concerning the acceptability of a grade of 3 in the case of students who have obtained this grade in a prerequisite course and who subsequently register in senior courses in the same discipline and continue to perform unsatisfactorily.

The Faculties were surveyed and it was found that most Faculties do not accept this grade as adequate for a prerequisite course.

Council approved the Executive Committee's recommendation that a grade of 4 in a prerequisite course represent the minimum requirement for admission to a senior course.

Under policy dating from August 1966, a grade point of 3 is regarded as falling between a pass and a failure. A notation in the Calendar and on transcripts states that "a grade point of 3 in an individual course will be accepted by a faculty only if warranted by the students' over-all academic record."

Replenishment of Nominating Committee

Council elected the following individuals to fill three staff vacancies on the Nominating Committee: Doris Badir, Dean, Home Economics; L.G. Stephens-Newsham, Pharmacy; and Richard Smith, Classics.

External members of faculty councils

It was agreed that in future, in the case of appointments of external members to faculty councils, GFC Executive Committee would be required only to approve the positions (for example, on the Council of the Faculty of Nursing: Dean of the Faculty of Medicine, a representative of the Faculty of Science, and so forth), rather than the names of the external members. In this way, faculty councils would not have to seek approval each time a replacement was appointed.

Senate Task Force on Extension Function

The Academic Development Committee reviewed the second report of the Senate Task Force on the Extension Function and made four recommendations to Council, all of which were approved.

The first recommendation was that the Faculty of Extension be requested to review the continuing adult education section of the report, particularly with respect to non-credit general interest courses. The Task Force had found that in the four-year period from 1971 to 1975 there was a continuing level of enrolment in general interest courses, but a steadily rising enrolment in professional and vocational courses offered through the Faculty of Extension. The Task Force report suggested that this failure of general interest enrolments to increase apace was likely related to a proliferation of general interest courses offered by other educational institutions in the province. It suggested further that the University should assess its position vis à vis non-credit courses.

The Academic Development Committee specifically referred the Faculty of Extension to the questions posed in the report—What kind of non-credit courses are appropriate to the University? Are there existing non-credit courses which would be more appropriate in subject or level to the community or junior colleges? Does the University do sufficient cooperative planning with other institutions in this area?

The second recommendation of the Academic Development Committee was that the Special Sessions Committee should attempt to come to terms with the section of the report dealing with general access to credit courses, especially in relation to offering such courses on an off-campus basis.

The report found a "substantial body of opinion that opening up degree courses to adult and/or part-time students is a higher priority than offering non-credit programs." It predicted that "such factors as earlier retirement, increased leisure time for some categories of worker, increased self-awareness and independence among women, married and single, and the increased demand for career changes during the course of one's working life, will lead to increased pressure for attendance at university."

The Academic Development Committee felt that the section of the report dealing with continuing professional education should be addressed to the professional faculties for their comments.

All faculties, the Committee suggested, should be requested to establish the priorities of their different extension activities, and the priorities of their extension activities in relation to their other academic activities.

Selection and review procedures for chairmen and deans

GFC agreed to establish an ad hoc committee of six to investigate the current philosophy of selection and review procedures for deans and department chairmen.

This matter arose as a result of a comment expressed by a member of the Board of Governors Executive Committee concerning the frequent turnover of department chairmen. It was agreed by the Board that the President would invite the Council of Department Chairmen to make a presentation on this matter to the Board, with an outline of the problem and possible solutions. The President would also initiate such an investigation with GFC.

Affiliation of The King's College

Council approved the recommendation of its Executive Committee and Articulation Committee "that The King's College proposal for affiliation not be accepted by the University of Alberta."

New members of GFC

The following staff members have been elected by their Faculties to serve on GFC until 30 June 1979: E. McFarland, Physical Education; J.D. Dale, Engineering.

Articulation Committee

Council agreed that the Chairman of the Articulation Committee should differ from usual practice on GFC committees and serve a three-year term. It was also agreed that the Articulation Committee Chairman be the University's representative on the Provincial Council on Admissions and Transfer.

Revised staff regulations

Council ratified parts II, III, and IV of the Academic Staff agreement. The parts cover, respectively, Administrative and Professional Officers, Professional Librarians, and Faculty Service Officers. The latter category of staff does not exist as yet, but will comprise "that group of academic staff who assist and collaborate with faculty members in the carrying out of the teaching/research process."

Council also ratified existing regulations concerning appointment and termination of full-time temporary academic staff (sessionals).

Standing Committee on Equal Opportunities

Council approved the establishment of a GFC Standing Committee on Equal Opportunities. The committee initially will investigate and bring forward proposals for improving the status and numbers of women in all faculties, particularly those in which women are underrepresented.

The committee will set its own terms of reference and bring them forward to Council for approval.

system. Full telephone service will resume on Monday, 19 July, at 7:30 a.m.

The cutover procedures require that an Edmonton Telephones installer will have to enter every room where there is a telephone to test each unit. A total of forty-five craftsmen, foremen, and coordinators have been assigned to the cutover; they will be coordinated through the Physical Plant Control Centre.

Concurrent with the change to Centrex, all telephone numbers in the 1XXX group will change. In an attempt to minimize disruption and confusion, all 1XXX numbers have been assigned corresponding numbers in the 2XXX group; that is, the first digit of the local number, the "1," will be changed to "2"; all the other digits will remain the same. For example, local 1345 will become 2345.

Prior to the cutover, a supply of interim campus telephone directories will be distributed to departments and faculty offices. These will then be distributed on a one-per-telephone basis to all locations. The interim directory will contain any new University telephone numbers as well as a complete "Centrex User's Guide," which covers the operation of campus telephones under Centrex. The usual fall edition of the directory will be prepared later and distributed in November.

TUITION FEES: CHANGES AND ADJUSTMENTS

Tuition fees and general and special fees are listed in the University Regulations and Information for Students Calendar that is provided for students and also in the Composite Calendar that is distributed to staff members. The fee changes recently approved by the Board of Governors to go into effect 1 September were not received in time to be published in the 1976-77 Regulations Calendar or in the Composite Calendar.

Page five of Folio, which includes a comprehensive listing of all fee adjustments, is being provided here principally for the benefit of staff members and graduate students. Undergraduate students who registered in advance will be advised of their specific fee assessment when they obtain their class timetable in September. Undergraduate students who register in person will also receive their fee assessments in September. Students registered in the Faculty of Graduate Studies and Research will be notified of their fee assessment by the Graduate Registrar in the fall.

Page five of Folio is designed to be removed and used as a replacement in the 1976-77 Calendar. Additional copies of these changes are available from the Registrar's Office.

CENTREX CONVERSION

There are approximately five thousand telephone instruments on campus. During the weekend of 17 July, each one of those will be individually tested as part of the Centrex cutover. Beginning at 6 p.m. on Friday, 16 July, telephone service on campus will be interrupted. The installation of the new Centrex equipment will make both "in" and "out" calling unavailable for most of the weekend. Anyone planning to use a telephone during that weekend will have to use pay telephones, which are not part of the campus Centrex

APPEALS PROCEDURE FOR ACADEMIC STAFF

The following report has been received from B.H. McDonald, Assistant to the President.

In accordance with the provisions of clause 36.01 of the new Academic Staff Agreement—Part I, a full-time faculty member who wishes to appeal the decision of his or her Faculty Salaries and Promotions Committee with respect to the increment or promotion taking effect 1 July 1976 must file such an appeal no later than 1 September 1976. The appeal may be sent to one of two committees:

(a) the GFC Appeals Committee chaired by Jean Young (Department of Elementary Education); or (b) the "Handbook" Appeals Committee chaired by Myer Horowitz, Vice-President (Academic). Additional information with respect to such appeals may be obtained from either Dr. Young or Dr. Horowitz.

COMPUTERS HELP TO HEAT BUILDING

The following report has been received from J. Meredith, Plant Mechanical Engineer, Department of Physical Plant.

The recent expansion of the Computing Services facilities to accommodate the Amdahl 470V/6 Computer in the General Services Building necessitated an increase in the capacity of the specialized air conditioning required for the electronic computing equipment. Rather than simply expanding the existing system, which used water to remove the computer's heat from the area, the Department of Physical Plant, in cooperation with Computing Services, constructed a new system on the west side of General Services Building. The new system uses outside air to provide the same cooling. Not only has this eliminated a large demand for water, but the system, as designed, reuses the heated air to assist in heating the building during the winter. It is estimated that the utility bill savings at current rates will be approximately $50,000 per annum.
